

Boys' Pants & Girls' Tights and Quality Supplies

We have gathered information from parents on how the pants for boys and tights for girls are holding up. The best place for pants looks like Marks and Spencer for price and durability. Some parents still like the Children's Place for the younger grades as the kids seem to be harder on the knees, and they are cheaper to replace. Old Navy has pants with reinforced knees, which helps. As for Dickies, they don't ship to Canada from their US site and the Canadian website doesn't have children's clothing. Girls' tights are also a concern for ripping and holes in the toes. Shien online is holding up, as are Marks and Spencer, and Joe Fresh.
